I have been a mentor and friend to a very special JARC client, Scott. I meet with Scott weekly. We just hang out together. We play games on the IPAD, talk "sports" and discuss life! The time I spend with Scott has become a highlight of my week and I think it has enriched Scott's life as well.

I love when Wendy comes to visit me. I can talk about anything I want and she is always there to listen. We have fun together and I am glad she picked me!
